

Knoydart High Route walking

The return of an old favourite; this high level trek is without compare, and is the best possible way to get to know one of the wildest, most remote, uncompromising areas of Europe.

After walking in to Barrisdale, we pretty much confine ourselves to the high tops and ridges, first of the peninsula, and then along one of the finest wild ridge routes in the UK, Sgurr na Ciche to Gairich.

Please note: Backpacking and wild camping are required on this walking holiday.

Fitness Levels

Due to the remote nature of the trip and lack of easy escape routes, participants should ensure that they have a high enough level of fitness to enable them to complete at least the linear parts of this holiday in full.

Although the distances are not long and we have all day to enjoy the route folk do have to have the ability to carry 30lbs or so on a daily basis - not impossible but some practice is advised. The terrain covered is mainly on paths and tracks, which may be rough, rocky and wet at times plus there is some un-pathed terrain.
